Art Unit: 1743

1. Applicant has not complied with one or more conditions for receiving the benefit of an earlier filing date under 35 U.S.C. 365(c) and 119(e) as follows: an application in which the benefits of an earlier application are desired must contain a specific reference to the prior application(s) in the first sentence of the specification of in an application data sheet (37 CFR 1.78(a)(2) and (a)(5)). The specific reference to any prior nonprovisional application must include the relationship (i.e., continuation, divisional, or continuation-in-part) between the applications except when the reference is to a prior application of a CPA assigned the same application number. See MPEP 201.11(III) for information on the format for this reference to a national stage application filed under 35 USC 371 and a provisional application as in the instant case. (For example -- This application is a National Stage application of PCT Application _____ filed _____ which claims benefit of US Provisional Application _____.)
2. The references cited in the Search Report mailed October 20, 1999 have been considered, but will not be listed on any patent resulting from this application because they were not provided on a separate list in compliance with 37 CFR 1.98(a)(1). In order to have the references printed on such resulting patent, a separate listing, preferably on a PTO-1449 form, must be filed within the set period for reply to this Office action.
3. This application does not contain an abstract of the disclosure as required by 37 CFR 1.72(b). An abstract on a separate sheet is required.
4. Claims 5 and 7 are objected to under 37 CFR 1.75(c) as being in improper form because a multiple dependent claim cannot depend from another multiple dependent claim. See MPEP § 608.01(n). Accordingly, the claims 5 and 7 have not been further treated on the merits.
5. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).
A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Art Unit: 1743

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

6. Claims 1-4 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over at least claims 4-5 and 9 of U.S. Patent No. 6,379,565.

Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the instant claims are of a scope that encompasses the patented claims.

7. Claims 1-4 and 6 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claim 32 of U.S. Patent No. 6,423,237 in view of Faulkner. The patented claim covers the last three steps of instant claim 1 and has a structure that includes a tube, a specimen cup and cover that are rotatable relative to one another. The claim does not include structure for mixing the contents of the specimen cup or steps to rotate the cup and cause mixing to occur.

In the patent Faulkner teaches a collection and transfer device in which the device includes means for agitating the contents within to create a suspension and a passage for transferring the suspension to a centrifuge or other type of vessel or to a microscope slide. The device is made in such a manner that an appropriate amount of fluid can be transferred and the remaining fluid will not leak after the transfer.

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to incorporate the mixing means of Faulkner into the device of the patented claim and add steps to use the relative rotation of the cup and cover to agitate the sample and create a suspension as taught by Faulkner because of the ability to prepare sample for examination that are better handles as a suspension as taught by Faulkner. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to repeat the transfer step because of the ability to transfer the needed amount of fluid for the intended purpose as taught by Faulkner and the ability to form multiple slides if the volume of sample is sufficient.

8. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The cited art relates to devices and methods for creating cell films on microscope slides.
